Garmin 430: because the 430 is certified hardware, our non-certified system can't legally send information to it, unless it's installed in a non-certified aircraft. Also, the 430 only receives traffic information via an RS232/Ryan TCAD or AIRINC 429 interface which the XRX does not yet provide.

Garmin 196: this device does not have the ability to process traffic information from any source.

Blue Mountain: we are compatible with all BM EFIS systems, including the lite.
