
Does the XRX Interface with the AVMAP EKP IV

Posted by DrDell - 2008/06/14 19:52

Folks,

I am in the market to buy a moving map GPS for installation in a Seneca and have found the AVMAP EKP IV to be good value for me on the basis of comparison of features, especially screen size, & cost of installation etc.

However, can someone at Zoon please advise if the XRX PCAS interfaces with the AVMAP EKP IV or EKP IV Pro. If not, it will doubtless swing my decision in favour of the Garmin 496 which has a smaller screen.

Many thanks.....Geoff

Thanks for the inquiry. We have been talking with AvMap for a while, and we have been told that traffic is the next priority after they get weather released. I will continue to follow up with them to get any additional information.

According to the AvMap site, the EKP IV can be connected to th XRX. Do you have any information on XRX settings etc.?

Regards,
Dan
